Figure 6.9: ECHO: an algorithm for propagation of information with feedback. i is the initiating process, U the set of all processes, and N the neighborhood relation that depends on the connection network. Messages consist of a receiver and a sender, in this order. The actual content of messages is abstracted.